Hazardous Weather Discussion

There is a coastal flood advisory posted until noon today, along with a small craft advisory and gale warning for coastal waters that extend into Thursday. It will rain statewide today with totals of 1" to 2" anticipated for most locations. Winds may gust up to 25 or 35 mph, particularly for central and northern coastal locations. The system will move out of our area on Thursday.

Advisory Map: 10/28/15, 8:11 AM

Forecast rainfall through 10/29/15 8 PM

Impacts to New Jersey

Minor tidal flooding may occur in coastal areas to include tidal bays and rivers, particularly with the morning high tide. The timing is 8 AM to 11 AM with high tides in back bays up to 2 hours later. Rainfall amounts may result in localized flooding statewide for areas that are low-lying or have poor drainage.
